"My mum is Danish and French, and she has pale skin with freckles. My dad is from Mexico and has a dark complexion. But they both have great skin. When I was a teenager and had breakouts they would both say, 'We never had breakouts.' But then I was acting so I was wearing make-up every day. Now, I have a brilliant facialist called Shani Dardan, who looks after my skin. I recently got her on Twitter so she can answer everyone's skincare queries. She recommended IS CLINICAL® ACTIVE SERUM® and said it would stop me from getting wrinkles and breakouts. And she was right- I haven't broken out during this pregnancy and I've noticed the fine lines starting to go away." Follow Shani on Twitter @shanidarden.
